GÖRG advises Dacke Industri AB on the acquisition of all shares in Völkel Mikroelektronik GmbH

GÖRG Partnerschaft von Rechtsanwälten mbB, led by Dr. Roland Hoffmann-Theinert and Tilman Herbst, advised Dacke Industri AB on the acquisition of all shares in Völkel Mikroelektronik Gesellschaft mit beschränkter Haftung („Völkel Mikroelektronik“).

Dacke Industri is a Swedish industrial holding company based in Helsingborg. It invests globally in innovative and leading technology companies, focusing on European countries. Due to its decentralized organizational structure, Dacke Industri allows the companies in its portfolio a high degree of autonomy. Dacke Industri's portfolio currently includes 21 companies that sell their products and applications to customers worldwide. With around 1,550 employees, Dacke Industri generates a net sales of SEK 4,3 billion.

Völkel Mikroelektronik was founded in 1984 by Ulrich Völkel in Münster. Since then, the company has established itself as a technology leader in control systems for large mobile machines in construction, agriculture and forestry. At the Company's Münster site, the highly specialised employees develop and produce hardware and program custom-made software at the forefront of technological advancement. Völkel Mikroelektronik's customers include series manufacturers, special machine builders and construction companies.

Völkel Mikroelektronik is Dacke Industri's first investment in Germany and will be part of its Electronics division. Dacke Industri sees the acquisition of the Westphalian technology company as a further step on its growth path and a strengthening of its commitment to the European market.
